

COVID-19 Testing In Chelsea

Description

The city of Chelsea held its second community wide drive through COVID-19 testing on Nov. 30.

Held at Liberty Baptist Church, Mayor Tony Picklesimer said that 130 people showed up to be tested at the first one, and 90 people at the second one.

“Several people have already called the church requesting another event,” he said. “I don’t know when it will happen, but we appreciate Liberty making their facility available and thanks to Golden Point Labs for putting these events on.”
